Deborah Swail Featured in Cambridge Who's Who

-- Deborah Swail's extensive business experience enables her to thrive at Foresters --

NORTH YORK, ON, CANADA, June 16, 2011 /Cambridge Who's Who/ -- Deborah Swail, Vice President of Business Transformation at Foresters, has been recognized by Cambridge Who's Who for demonstrating dedication, leadership and excellence in business strategy development.

From health care to law, engineering to finance, manufacturing to education, every major industry is represented by its 500,000 active members.

A senior financial service professional, Ms. Swail brings both technical and people skills to her role at Foresters, a life insurance provider committed to the well-being of families with over 835,000 members in Canada, the U.S. and UK. Ms. Swail is responsible for business architecture, project governance and project management. She also leads the delivery of a complex, multi-year transformation involving implementation of a new business processing platform and the redesign and automation of business processes.

Ms. Swail has 35 years of experience in business strategy development, human resource management, change leadership, project management, contract negotiation, training design and facilitation. She attributes her success to this breadth of experience, which allows her to see many facets of an issue and develop creative solutions.

Ms. Swail, who completed her MBA at the University of Toronto, says she is currently focused on guiding Foresters transformation into an exciting new phase, with implementation beginning later this year.
